

2019 SUMMER INSTITUTE

Engage with your colleagues this summer to sharpen your skills in distance teaching and learning! Vol State's Distributed Education department is sponsoring three intense days of faculty training and professional development in three key areas: open educational resources (OER), eLearn training, and general online teaching and course design. Pick and choose your workshop dates, times, and locations using the schedule below. Seating is limited!

Pre-registration is required!
